

Pete Seligman is a self-taught artist. He worked first as a public school teacher and later as marketing communications writer in New York City publishing companies, an ad agency, and in The Library of Congress (Washington, DC). Pete exhibited at the Library's annual staff arts and crafts exhibition for 25 years and was Featured Artist in 2005. He also exhibited at Rockville (MD) Arts Place (now VizArts).

EXHIBITIONS

October 2019 - Constructions & Collages - solo exhibition - Foundry Gallery, Washington, DC

August 2019 - Guests Misbehaving, a collage - The Art League Gallery, Torpedo Factory, Alexandria, VA

February 2019 - Five Artists/Five Visions - Six wood-based constructions.

October 2018 - Small Works show - Foundry Gallery- Three wood-based constructions.

2005 - Featured Artist in Library of Congress staff arts and crafts show

2002 - Viz Arts - Rockville, MD - members exhibition

1989-2014 - Library of Congress staff arts and crafts exhibitions